The Wilson Victorian House is a large frame structure two and a half stories in height three bays long by two wide. The exterior siding is wooden level siding. The house has a gable roof with a central peaked dormer. In each gable end is a brick inside end chimney. On the first floor is a central entrance which is sheltered by a one story front porch with turned posts. The house has a stone foundation with a cellar. The window sash on the first two stories are 2/2. The windows have paneled shutters on the first floor and louvered shutters on the second floor. The roof has wooden shingles. In the gable walls are two windows with circular tops.

A two story frame wing extends from the rear of the eastern end of the main house. It has a porch on its western side and a brick inside end chimney in the north gable.
